

Poetry's Miraculous Workaround

For silver, anxious, month, and orange,
There are no rhymes we've found so far.
There's Wilbur, sanctions, lunch, syringe;
They may be close, but no cigar.
With lather, inches, once, and hinge,
They're slantwise perfect, subtle, spare.